

---

---

----- Script -----

---

---

[Opening shot with a few credits lead into his alarm clock going off]

Caleb: moan... (Gets up and turn on my computer and then start to prepare for school)

(Login to my computer and start to mess around with technical stuff, soon finds something that looks interesting)

Caleb: (talking to myself) "hmm, that's weird..."

Caleb's Mom: (Yells at Caleb from another room) "The bus is here!"

Caleb: "Ok, I'm coming!"

(Closes down his computer and grabs his book bag then runs off)

[Fades to black]

[Opens back with Caleb coming in the house, then into his room]

(Caleb throws his book bag down on his bed and opens up to turn on his computer and then takes his jacket off while it boots up)

(Goes back to that same spot on the computer and starts messing around again)

(The phone rings, it is his friend calling)(He picks up the phone which is lying beside him, leans back on his chair to talk)

Caleb: "Hello"

Friend over the phone: (can't hear him talking)

Caleb: "Hey, hey wait just a minute I can barely hear you let me put it on speaker."

(Caleb sets the phone down beside him with it on speaker and goes back to messing with the computer; you can now hear his friend)

Friend over the phone: "dude, get off that network. I was messing around on it and I think it is (insert name here) wait just a sec I'll send you some info."

[A window pops up on Caleb's computer that has a header (insert name here) and it looks like an article]

Caleb: "Whoa, it says he killed like 13 people and he's only 19! Wait, it says hear he's in jail; so nothing to worry about."

Friend over the phone: "I also found an article that said he escaped in a prison break in South Carolina."

Caleb: "Still, it's pretty unlikely."

Friend over the phone: "Ya, but still be careful."

Caleb: "Alright, don't worry about it."

Friend over the phone: "Okay, I'll see you later."

Caleb: "See ya."

(They hang up; Caleb reaches over and pushes the button)

[Very soon after a bullet comes flying through the Caleb's window beside his computer]

(Caleb jumps and then gets down and sits there looking scared; then he here's a beep noise coming from his computer, he looks up to see there is a message that reads this is just a taste of what is to come.)

(After Caleb reads the message and shuffles out of his room frantically and runs/falls into his parent's room, then shuffles through their closet and pulls out a wimpy .22 caliber pistol.)

(After grabbing the pistol he holds it in bad form and does everything wrong from a professional shooters eyes. He slowly walks out side looking kind of scared. He starts to go around to the back of his house, still shaking when he sees a car come screeching out of a nearby road, he assumes that was the guy so he leans up against his house and slowly slides down his wall feeling very relieved.)

[Fades to black, possibly with a 3 days later text on the screen]

(Caleb is walking down the street, with a laptop bag on his shoulder. Soon he starts to realize that the guy behind him is making every turn he does, so he starts to walk a little faster; so does the guy following him, eventually they break out into a run and a full blown chase scene.)

[The one guy chasing him slowly starts to catch up the more they run, so Caleb makes one final turn to try and get away, when turning he goes through a smaller ally type area and runs by a spike sticking up.

Then the guy chasing him trips at the moment and falls on the spike, killing him. ((This might be changed, he might die another way)) The kid looks back and sees that he is dead; he is very scared.

Caleb just keeps running as fast as he can.)

[Shows him running at the camera when his whole body takes it up and then shows him busting through his house door]

[It shows him busting through his door like he had been running the whole time]

(Caleb runs in and grabs the phone acting like he is going to dial 911, but stops and calls his friend)

Caleb (very shaken up): "You were right, I think it was him."

Friend over the phone: "Calm down, what are you talking about?"

Caleb: "The network, it was that guy who escaped from jail!"

Friend over the phone: "Ok, so what happened?"

Caleb: "He was chasing me when he fell on a spike and now he's dead!"

Friend over the phone: "What are you talking about? When?"

Caleb: "Today, just now, I was walking home from school when he started following me. What should I do?!?"

Friend over the phone: "Nothing man, nobody saw you and you didn't do anything; he just fell."

Caleb (starting to calm down): "Ya, you're right."

Friend over the phone: "Just forget about man"

Caleb: "Alright, alright, I got it."

Friend over the phone: "Your parents are will be home in a couple more days, it will all be fine, just tough it out."

Caleb: "Ya, I'll talk to you later."

Friend over the phone: "Alright man, see ya."

Caleb: "Bye."

(Caleb hangs up and sets the phone down on his desk the half lays on is bed, he lies there resting, when he starts to think, then looks at his computer; then he eventually gets up slowly and gets on it; you can tell he is going back onto that site)

(He finds that the guy was about to commit a mass murder, maybe shows big text on the screen that say Journal or something)

[The camera zooms out like he is just a small guy in a big world, THE END]